

Within

Within me lies a sense of pride struggling with the time of tides.

Not knowing exactly why
I feel a sudden jolt to comply.

My mind largely over worked against humanities jerks.

Timeless efforts of many have tried to constrict and contain, but died.

I look around to see where I am at but from within I know it's my turn to bat.

Within me a strong sense of urgency
is to fight for what is right, Democracy.
